PROJECTS

Twitter Clone ⧉
- A Twitter Clone built using the MERN (MongoDB, Express.js, React, Node.js) stack. This web application replicates the core features of Twitter, allowing users to create accounts, post tweets, follow other users, like tweets and engage in real-time discussions.
- Utilized MongoDB as the database to store user profiles, tweets, and relationships between users, ensuring efficient data management and retrieval. Created a RESTful API with Express.js to handle HTTP requests.

Memories Full Stack ⧉
- Engineered a dynamic full-stack website enabling real-time post creation and updates—leveraged front-end technologies such as React for seamless user interaction and responsiveness.
- Made with React and Node.js with MongoDB for Database. Implemented robust back-end utilizing databases and web sockets to facilitate instant content updates.
- Proficiently merged front-end and back-end through effective API integration, resulting in a smooth and interactive user experience.

Chat-App ⧉
- Your own personalised chat-app. Invite your friends and start a session.
- A real-time chat application using React and Socket.io. Enabled instant messaging, real-time typing indicators, and message status tracking.
- Ensured data security through encryption and implemented a user-friendly, responsive interface. Supported multimedia sharing, notifications, and archived conversations for a comprehensive communication experience.

Unified Prescription Note ⧉
- Unified Prescription Notebook is an interface between doctors and patients. It provides an infinitely scalable notebook for your prescription which only doctors can write onto.
- The aim is to make the workspace digital, get rid of unnecessary paperwork, modernize the healthcare system, and make prescriptions readily accessible.
